

JINDA ANNUAL REPORT

WHO WE ARE

Jinda organization – A Center for Ezidi Women and Girls

The Jinda center opened in July 2015 as a long-term response to the overwhelming needs of women and girls who have escaped or been rescued from Daesh (ISIS) captivity. When they arrive in the Dohuk area, these women and girls, are in urgent need of care. It is important to understand that many (if not most) have suffered extreme violence, torture, beatings, forced conversion to Islam, sexual violence, captivity, and being sold as slaves.

Many have seen entire branches of their families killed, others have lost their husbands, brothers, and have their male children forcibly taken from them. Upon their return, they are in a fragile mental and emotional state, many feel conflicted about having 'made it out' while others are still held captive.

The center follows up on the work of the Mobile Teams by offering an inviting and pleasant (all woman) space where groups are offered in depth counseling treatment, vocational courses such as crafting, knitting and sewing, agricultural skills, social activities, and most of all a safe space where they can share their experiences without judgement. In Kurdish 'Jinda' means new life, and that is what the center stands for, a place to regain strength, and hope, and start new chapters in their lives. With the knowledge they gain from different vocational courses, the goal is that they can provide for themselves and their families financially, and feel proud of their accomplishments

Jinda became a civil society NGO in 2015 .

"When they first arrived, they were collapsed, totally. Psychologically, health-wise — everything, step by step, we are reintegrating them into society."

OUR EYES BEHIND THE MASK BY CROSSPOINT EUROPE

With the generous and continues support of our Partner Crosspoint Europe represented by Maria Vitalegeno , Our NGO have supported women, girls and kids from different ages and areas in Dohuk with job opportunities, vocational courses, including (English, Computer, Art, STEM) and social and medical support.

Due to the continues spread of the pandemic, Jinda continued producing protective materials and have been distributed in six camps in Dohuk, shingal, schools, universities , camp managements, community centers , volunteers groups and orphanages. Jinda also supported five ladies from the camps to produce face masks. The ladies received Monthly materials and fees for their work. The masks that have been produced are distributed by local volunteers with encouraging the community to keep their distance and wear their masks.

The recent Covid-19 Crisis have left lots of people jobless. This situation is very difficult and affects the women and girls and also their kids. This activity gave the possibility to generate income and gave effective help in this difficult situation.

The pandemic unfortunately is spreading very high in the IDPs camps, The camps already in a lack of health and services. Jinda which has been taking care of refugees and especially Yazidi women for years, has been involved in the distribution of food and basic necessities, but also of sanitary material, such as masks and disinfectants. Hence the idea of producing masks and protective material for the distribution to the Yazidi community and in general to the population in need.

This program have started in May 2020 and still being implemented. It is in plan that we continue with producing masks for 2022.

OTHER ACTIVITIES FUNDED BY CROSSPOINT EUROPE

In addition to sewing masks program, Jinda with the support of Crosspoint Europe have opened educational courses for Yazidi orphans who live in different camps in Dohuk. The kids were left without (father, mother or both). Jinda's idea is to support those kids who have lost their parents during the attack of ISIS in 2014.

Some of these kids live in orphanages located in Sharya , Shikhan and Dohuk. The other live with other family members in the small tents in the camps. Those kids (especially those who have been brainwashed by Isis) need psychosocial support, education and entertainment.

In addition to supporting orphans, Jinda also opened different courses to women, girls and boys survivors from the terrorist act of Daesh who live in six camps in Dohuk (Kabarto 1 , Kabarto 2, Sharya, Esyan, Rawanga, and Khanke camps)

The Courses included:

- Learning Basic Computer Skills
- English for Beginners
- Art
- STEM (Science, Mathematics, Engineering and Technology)

Through this project, the beneficiaries received a sustainable improvement in this difficult situation due to Covid19 and the lack of services especially in the camps. Within 2021, we were also able to celebrate international women's day with 50 women and girls, international children day with 300 kids, Christmas with 479 Kids and supporting 136 families effected in Sharya camp Fire.

Crosspoint Europe collaborates with Jinda Center has been established in early 2015 as a reaction to the Daesh attack on the Ezidi people in August 2014. For 2022, we will extend our activities to reach more kids, women, girls and families in need

COVID -19 AND VACCINE AWARENESS CAMPAIGN BY SEZ AND WADI

As we enter a new phase of living with the dangers of COVID-19, And low average of vaccination especially in the IDPS Camps, Jinda With the financial support of SEZ Baden-Wurttemberg and cooperation of Wadi NGO started the implementation of the Covid-19 and vaccine awareness campaign project for the months March 2021- December 2021 to reduce the spread of Covid-19 by promoting simple safety and prevention measures such as masking, and use of hand-sanitizer gel and providing accurate Covid Vaccine information with the aim of empowering camp residents.

The team gathered 10-15 women in an open place with a large area separated to practice the social distancing. The social workers and psychologist explained the project goals and activities to them and shared all the information needed for the protection. The women and girls received health kit including Masks, sanitizers and health instructions brochures. In addition to distributing the masks in the camps, Health facilities, Support centers, Schools etc

Activities of the project:

- Daily visit of social workers to the camp residents with the help of camp volunteers and self-awareness teams to deliver the right information and convincing people to get their vaccine.
- Explaining the virus and its risk, ways of infection and health consequences.
- Raising awareness on fake news about the virus, why vaccination is a great idea - in fact the only idea that promises any hope -expose the myths and provide fact-based information.
- Helping people getting a vaccination appointment by registering online or visiting vaccination centers nearby.
- Print and distribute health posters and brochures.
- Distribution of masks and sanitizers.

The misinformation continue to make the situation even more dangerous for an already vulnerable group. We continued to intensify informing people about the basic steps they can take to protect themselves and each other. There is still a lot of misinformation and 'fake news' being shared about Coronavirus and the vaccine, and there is a large cultural resistance to practicing basic prevention measures such as social distancing and mask wearing.

We expanded our project to reach more camps and involving self-awareness groups to support their community. As Covid infections rise again in their camps, Yazidi refugees are still forced to live in – 7 years after the genocide- groups of young camp residents (many of them women and girls who survived captivity of the Islamic State) are taking action. The self organized groups are raising awareness and working within their communities to encourage vaccination. This dynamic ground-roots campaign is not just a matter of public health, it is also an emotional plea to protect the vulnerable Yazidi community.

As one team members explains: “Our grandfathers and grandmothers survived the grip of Daesh, we do not want to lose them because of Corona.”

The teams of Yazidi youth have chosen to organize themselves in order to campaign within the camps to raise awareness on the safety of the vaccines. Misinformation runs rampant, and access to sound medical advice can be hard to come by. These 6 teams of volunteers are advocating for their communities to protect themselves, and to work together to protect each other. They meet with camp residents and go tent to tent, talking, answering questions about vaccine safety, sharing leaflets, putting up posters, handing out masks, and sanitary hand-gel.

52685 masks, 183 Sanitizers , 2500
Posters and flyers were distributed

Each team consist of four young ladies who escaped the attack of ISIS on shingal in 2014. They settle in six camps in Dohuk (Kabartu 1, Kabartu 2, Sharya, Khanke , Esysan and Qadya). This campaign is an extension for our previous campaigns and now it is supported by Wadi. It started in December 2021, and in this short time, vaccination rates have gone from 20% to 50%. We are planning to continue this important campaign in 2022.

SUPPORT OF FAMILIES EFFECTED IN SHARYA CAMP FIRE

On June 4, 2021, a massive fire broke out in the Sharya refugee camp in Iraq's Duhok region. The camp was established in 2014 to house thousands of Yazidi refugees who escaped ISIS' genocidal conquest of Sinjar, a predominantly Yazidi district in northern Iraq. The fire destroyed 400 tents and forced over 200 families to relocate. Six people were injured in the fire, and the fire caused subsequent explosions of flammable materials, such as gas canisters. These explosions worsened the fire and inflicted severe burns on some of the camp's inhabitants. The fire brought back past traumas for many camp residents, who were reminded of the destruction that ISIS wrought on Sinjar.

Yazidi refugees, like the residents of the Sharya camp, live in poverty. As survivors of ISIS' genocide, they have lost their loved ones, homes, and financial stability. Fires like the one at Sharya claim the lives and livelihoods of Yazidis. With the support of Wadi, Crosspoint Europe and other donation from other donor we were able to provide women and families effected by the fire with " Dignity packs " which include personal hygiene items, clothes, underwear and other essential personal items.

In addition to the dignity packs, we were also able to provide the camp community with first aid kits, cleaning materials, fire extinguishing balls, masks and sanitizers. Our teams also explained how to react in case of fire by distributing fires and broouchers.

HAYAT STORY

Hayat is a thirty one years old Yazidi girl from Sinone (Shingal). She and her family have fled the attack of Daesh in 2014 on their village. The Yazidi people settled on this land thousands of years ago.

They are farmers and shepherds who live unto themselves and practice a religion that goes back to the 12th century, tending their fields of tomatoes and eggplant, herding their sheep. The menace that wrecked their lives on Aug. 3, 2014, is, by their count, the 73rd genocidal attack committed against them since the 1800s, when the Ottomans ruled the area

Hayat was forced to take care of the sheep while her brothers went to school. Her parents didn't let her study because she is female and it was shame for them that females be educated. She dreamt of studying and achieve her dreams. She secretly opened her brothers books and tried to study. She always dreamt of visiting the city and finding a job there.

On 3rd August 2014, She and her family fled to Duhok safely and settled in Baadre Camp. Unfortunately she was forced to live in the camps and be away from her village after losing everything.

With the help of the NGOs, Hayat is close to achieving her dreams. She attended the courses provided by Jinda and was keen to learn. She was very ambitious and a fast learner. She participated in the Art course by Jinda Several times. She imitated and followed the lines of the trainer. She was the best in class.

Hayat now is a very talented Artist, She is very proud of her self that she achieved her dream. " I feel very comfortable when I paint, Sometimes when I feel sad, I express my feelings with art. My goal is to open a gallery that express the feelings of the yazidi ladies and all what they have suffered from rape, slavery and torture".
